

MATCH REPORT

© World of Football Refereeing

UEFA CHAMPIONS-LEAGUE Matchday 3

SSC NAPOLI

Badstuber 39' (OG)

1:1

BAYERN MÜNCHEN

Kroos 2'

LINE-UPS

Morgan de Sanctis (GK)	1	1	Manuel Neuer (GK)
Salvatore Aronica	6	5	Daniel van Buyten
(-81') Edinson Cavani	7	7	Franck Ribéry ■ (-90')
■ Christian Maggio	11	17	Jérôme Boateng
Hugo Campagnaro	14	21	Philipp Lahm (C)
(-90+2') Marek Hamsik	17	25	Thomas Müller ■
■ Juan Zúñiga	18	28	Holger Badstuber ■
■ Ezequiel Lavezzi	22	31	Bastian Schweinsteiger ■
Walter Gargano	23	33	Mario Gomez 49' (-90')
■ Paolo Cannavaro (C)	28	39	Toni Kroos ■
(-90') Gökhan Inler	88	44	Anatoliy Tymoshchuk

SUBSTITUTIONS

Antonio Rosati (GK)	83	12	Jörg Butt (GK)
Ignacio Fideleff	3	13	Ivica Olic
Andrea Dossena	8	14	Rafinha
(+90+2') Giuseppe Mascara	9	15	Danijel Pranjić
(+90') Mario Santana	19	16	Diego Contento
(+81') Blerim Dzemaili	20	17	David Alaba (+90')
Federico Fernández	21	18	Luiz Gustavo (+90+4')

HEAD COACHES

Walter Mazzarri (ITA)

Jupp Heynckes (GER)

MATCH FACTS

Tuesday, 18/10/2011, 20:45 CET

COMPETITION

UEFA Champions-League, Matchday 3, Group A

VENUE

Stadio San Paolo
Napoli

ATTENDENCE

60.074

MATCH OFFICIALS

Referee

Olegário Benquerença (POR)

Assistant Referees

Bertino Miranda (POR), João Santos (POR)

Additional Assistant Referees

Artur Soares Dias (POR), Carlos Xistra (POR)

Fourth Official

Rui Costa (POR)

UEFA Referee Observer

David Elleray (ENG)

Blog Referee Observer

Niclas Erdmann (GER)

FINAL MARK

Control (25%) : 6,0

Calls (25%) : 5,0

Neutrality (20%) : 6,0

Style (20%) : 6,0

Match importance/difficulty (10%) : 7,0

5,85

MATCH OFFICIAL'S EVALUATION

„Happy Birthday“

Olegario Benquerença had his birthday, he has become 42 years old. Congrats. But only for the birthday, not for the performance. This was slightly doubtful and did not correspond to his experience, but to his common style.

Control with cards

Two yellows were very harsh, Benquerença enjoyed being in focus. The other 8 yellows however were just ok. The question is whether that is a style Elleray likes to see, to my mind, it is not. He showed again that he is incapable of leading a match which was far away from being unfair without showing an outstanding amount of cards. Is that what we want? Concerning the cards: in my opinion, dive of Ribery correctly seen, but what about the first card to Badstuber? If there is a contact, yes, tactical foul, but there was no contact. Such a card (in minute 5), has an impact on the defender's behaviour in the whole match.

Penalty situations

It is a bit paradoxical. Bayern Munchen are often said to be preferred by referees in Bundesliga, and also in CL, they had much, much luck. Again, they actually committed a foul (handball by Schweinsteiger) which is clearly a penalty, one could then even wonder whether he must be dismissed with his second yellow. The penalty he gave was in my opinion wrong, but that was not his mistake, ADD-ASS-REF 1 Artur Soares did not evaluate that correctly. A hard decision, thank Godness, Gomez was too lazy..or as the stupid German commentator said, he was influenced by a laser-pointer..no, that was not the reason. Yes yes, the thing with the "now we see more", one has to protect Collina, he did not say that they see more correctly.. Benquerença's overall performance was not that bad, he missed some fouls, cards can be justified; but again..I am not content with a referee who enjoys showing cards, which is already indicated by the way he holds the card. Proença is my favourite for Euro 2012.

STATS

	NAP		BAY
1	Goals		1
2	Attempts		10
4	Corners		5
15	Fouls		24
2	Offside		0
4	Yellows		5
0	Reds		0

DISCIPLINE

- Holger Badstuber (7')
- Schweinsteiger (28')
- Paolo Cannavaro (28')
- Christian Maggio (42')
- Juan Zúñiga (45')
- Franck Ribéry (59')
- Ezequiel Lavezzi (65')
- Thomas Müller (79')
- Toni Kroos (84')